

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVE., JAN. 14, 1885.

Corn sells for $2 a barrel in Fayette County.

The Lexington Guards are to be mustered out of the service.

Mr. STEERLING AND Hazel Green are about to be connected by telephone.

REPORTS from all over the country indicate a speedy and general revival in business.

DURING the past year 320,000 steerage and 59,500 cabin passengers landed at New York City.

Pittsburgh has called Francis Murphy the temperance apostle to locate permanently in that city.

It is estimated that the population of the United States now amounts to fifty-seven million souls.

The best quality of new hemp at Lexington is worth $6.25 for 112 pounds. The average quality of hemp commands $6.

The debt of the city of Louisville is about $5,000,000, but the people expect to pay it in about twenty years without increasing the taxes.

GEOLOGISTS who have lately made examinations in the mountains of eastern Kentucky are very confident of the existence of oil fields and promise some day to be very profitable.

The House committee is expected to report in favor of appropriating $2,000,000 for Mississippi river improvement, instead of $10,000,000 asked by the Mississippi river commission.

The murder statistics for 1884 Ohio leads with 189, Texas following with 184, Kentucky 178, Missouri 149, Tennessee 137, Georgia 135, New York 125, Pennsylvania 120, Michigan 109, and Virginia 102.

The people of Illinois are so well satisfied with the high license law, which has now been in operation for several years, that no serious effort will be made to repeal it at the present session of the Legislature.

The Breckinridge club of Lexington, about one hundred strong, will leave that place for Washington on the 2nd day of March, and will return on the 6th. The club will escort to the capital Representative-elect Breckinridge and Senator-elect Blackburn.

The committee on public lands reported in favor of driving away unauthorized occupants, even if military power be necessary, in view of the fact that large bodies of land have been enclosed, sometimes by foreign corporations, to the practical exclusion of home-farm settlers.

A WASHINGTON special says Mr. Bayard is entirely willing to remain in the Senate if Cleveland will put Pendleton at the head of the State department. Bayard holds that Pendleton's influence would be exerted in favor of reform; and that the Ohio Senator could accomplish all that he (Bayard) could, and perhaps more.

The Column of Cod.

[Exchange.] Just as the season for balls, including codfish balls, begins, Professor Huxley reports the announcement of a gigantic column of cod off the Norway coast every season containing 120,000,000 fish to the square mile.

The Editor of the Base.

[Boston Courier.] "Met with an accident?" said a subscriber who was two or three years in arrears, as he entered the sanctum of a rural editor: "I see your face is bruised and you've got a black eye."

"I said that editor with a sigh, as he arose and began to roll up his sleeves; 'delinquent subscribers must be made to pay up somehow, but I sometimes come out second best, as you see.'

"I'll laugh at the visitors as he took out his pen: 'I just dropped in to pay my bill.'

And the editor chuckled softly to himself after the visitor's departure: "Life is full of compensations. Falling ever that wood-bow was a blessing to me."

Couldn't Help Kissing Her.

[New York World.] Mary Riley, a rosy-cheeked girl, works in a strongroom of a bank on a street near Broadway, New York, as does Joseph Kettner, a good-looking young man. At one time they were engaged to be married, but the girl broke the engagement. Yesterday she filed his arrest on a charge of robbing him of his money, and he would throw his arms about her and kiss her. She told him that she cared not for his kisses, but he would not cease. Counselor Samuel J. Levy, who appeared for the accused, said that when they were engaged and she used his sweetheart a thousand times a day. Now he was so used to it that it was impossible for him to break the habit.

"You must stop it," said Justice Duffy, sternly.

"I can't. Judge, I would if I could." Justice Duffy warned him, and discharged him from custody. The young woman returned five minutes after they had left the court and said that he had kissed her on the cheek.

"I can't stop it," said Justice Duffy. "The best thing you can do is to marry him."

DEATH OF SCHUYLER COLFAX.

The Ex-Vice President Drops Dead of Heart Disease.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 14.—Ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax dropped dead at the Omaha depot, Mankato, Minn., 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. He arrived to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road and walked to the Omaha depot, took off his coat set down and fell dead in a few minutes. The doctor says he died from the disturbance.

THE SAD NEWS CONFIRMED.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Mr. F. M. Bradshaw, of No. 57 Market street, received a dispatch from his traveling salesman, G. M. Black, dated Mankato, Minn., saying that ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax dropped dead at that place while stepping from a train, and requesting him to notify the Chicago papers, and the American Press Association. Mr. Bradshaw says the dispatch can be relied on as authentic.

A SPEECH OF WESTERN WAR.

With the Boomers Inevitable. Their Terrible Threat in Case of Defeat.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 14.—Private eyes report that the boomers are the intent of the ex-Vice President to destroy the recent failure of Lieut. Day and his soldiers to destroy the settlement and remove the settlers, or even to make any inroad toward a surrender, has inspired the boomers with a desire to burn the town and have no enemies bolder and dauntless than themselves.

The colonists are the boomers' best ally. They have been driven to a sort of desperation by the want of supplies for battle music. Supplies sufficient for a continual siege are at hand and the announcement by Capt. Couch that the colony will not submit but will fight until overpowering numbers force a conflict with the troops will prove fatal.

It is now known that the boomers were only kept from firing on Day's command by extraction from their leader. Day avoided being killed by white men, and was near Fort Smith awaiting orders. Meanwhile the government is making preparations to capture the boomers and demolish the town. Gen. Hatch has eight companies and a battery of gunboats supplied to meet the demand. Gen. Hatch will demand an unconditional surrender, and if refused will destroy the colony and drive the intruders from the colony at the point of the bayonet.

Further reports state that the colonists declare that if defeated they will fire the prairie and burn out every cattle ranch in the Indian Territory.

IT SEEMS MOST SUSPICIOUS.

The Death of Dr. John Linthicum, of Baltimore, at Kearney, Neb.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 14.—The mysterious death of Dr. John Linthicum, in Kearney, Neb., on January 3, has caused a sensation among the citizens of that city, who are confident that there has been foul play.

Their suspicions are directed toward Dr. C. A. Jackson. Last spring Linthicum having several thousand dollars to invest, answered a telegram from Dr. Jackson, asking him to come to him and go west. Mrs. Linthicum, who resides on Mulberry street, heard very little from her son. On Tuesday night she received a dispatch from Dr. Jackson, telling her that her son had failed to reply. The coroner, however, sent word that an inquest had been held and that the proceedings would be forwarded by mail. Yesterday morning Mrs. Linthicum received a letter from Dr. Jackson, calling at the latter's house to sit up with him the night before he died. At 9 o'clock, however, Dr. Jackson had his daughter, Mrs. Jackson, live upon the visitors leaving, stating that she would take care of the patient. At 5 o'clock the following morning Dr. Linthicum died. Dr. Benét, who added that when he entered Linthicum's room he found him dead, very much and was unable to talk. The words he uttered were: "If I could only tell you something!" as, exhausted he exclaimed "Oh!" and sank back on his pillow and died.

Double Suicide.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 14.—Guy M. Galt, a student at the University of L. T. Galt, and his half brother, L. T. Galt, both of Hilliard, and ten years apart, both of this city, committed suicide by poison from unknowns. Young Galt was attending the military school at Chester, Pa., and was on his vacation. On Saturday evening he came to Springfield, returning to his home in Chicago, returning to his home in Springfield, signing any reason and was steadily pursued by his parents for his action. Purchasing a box of rat poison, young Galt went to his room, where Richard Hartman, an employee, and his wife, the fatal dose, but resulted in his death a few hours later, dimly seemed much affected by Galt's death. Finding the box containing some of poison which had been taken, he took another dose of the same, and his employer, who had done his duty, he waited to die, and refusing all assistance or remedies. Both victims were highly respected, and the motive for their rash action is unknown.

New Move by the Mormons.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 14.—Recently some high Mormons returned from Mexico. They are the strongest party in that country, the Yanqui savages, and made a conditional treaty with them. Within a few days J. N. Taylor, the head of the Mormon Church, Chief Counsellor Smith, Bishop Sharp and others, have left here. It is known that they have gone to Mexico, and are to remain there to go to the capital to treat with the Mexican government for lands and a charter like Navajo charter. The plan is to make a nation of Mormons liable to protection and the Indians law and order form the nucleus of a future empire. In their favor is the fact that the Yanqui are terrible Indians, and have never been subdued, and the people of the northern Mexican states feel the same.

"You must stop it," said Justice Duffy, sternly.

"I can't. Judge, I would if I could." Justice Duffy warned him, and discharged him from custody. The young woman returned five minutes after they had left the court and said that he had kissed her on the cheek.

"I can't stop it," said Justice Duffy. "The best thing you can do is to marry him."

THE SAD NEWS CONFIRMED.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 14.—A special from Warrington, W. Va., says that the sudden death of Dr. E. F. Payne, partner in the firm of Payne & Co., bankers, has made it necessary for them to make an assignment and an announcement to this effect has been made

Cambodia in Review.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 14.—Cambodia, a province under the protektorates of France, at the southern extremity of Siam. King's brother is said to have placed himself at the head of the rebels in many provinces of Cambodia, continuing the practice that province, are reported massacred. Troops will probably be sent from Maigon to quell the disturbance.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.
WEDNESDAY EVE. JAN. 14, 1885.

ROSS & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To Whom Address All Communications

"SWAN off, swear off, you hear the cry,
From many a sturdy throat,
That in a week, all parched and dry,
To some saloon will quickly hie,
And leave no contented sigh,
Get fuller than a goat."

P.O.P.

Coal sells this week for 12 cents a bushel delivered.

The river is falling at this place to-day. The Big Sandy, however, is reported to be rising fast.

The Conn brothers, of Brown County, Ohio, are putting up a planing mill near Winchester, Ky.

The Cincinnati Evening Post correctly says: Maysville, Ky., Musical Club is one of the successes of that musical town.

The new tobacco warehouse on Second street, East of Limestone bridge, is in course of erection. It will be a large and substantial building.

A single hoghead of new tobacco at Cincinnati last week brought 15 cents a pound. This was the highest price reached during the week.

Governor Knott has pardoned Robert Fitch, of Lexington, convicted of cutting another with intent to kill. Fitch had two and a half years of his sentence to serve.

A fine hand-painted velvet lambrequin, the work of the Sisters of the Visitation, may be seen in the window of Messrs. George Cox & Son's drug store.

The steamer Kerr was sold yesterday to Captain Sam. Bryant and Captain C. W. Boyd, who will place her in the Ripley and Cincinnati trade as a regular packet.

Mr. DAVID DOYLE, we are pleased to hear, will not remove from Maysville. If his intention, we are informed, to open soon a millinery and fancy goods establishment.

The Winchester Sun has the following concerning Dr. H. M. Marsh, who lately removed from Maysville to that place: Dr. Marsh is a gentleman of education and refinement, and comes among us with the very highest recommendation as a physician and gentleman.

A part of the pavement on Third street, between Wall and Short, is in bad condition and needs immediate attention. A railing at the head of one of the alleys intersecting the street has fallen down and if not put up may result in an accident to some of the people who go that way.

Facts About the Child.

A healthy child is a joy in the house. A sick and feeble child is a constant worry. The diseases which attack the child are those chiefly which attack the digestive organs and the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters acts gently but powerfully on these, restoring the child to health and vigor. It is a pleasant medicine to take, and the children under its use will gain strength in every portion of the body.

The following compose the grand jury: A. G. Morris, John Storn, Stephen Valentine, D. B. White, Jos. D. Peet, Edward C. Jones, Lewis Collins, A. B. Maccock, J. H. Jones, R. K. Powell, Timothy McAuliffe.

How the N. O. Exposition was Inaugurated.

The inauguration of the Exposition at New Orleans, noon, December 16th, was contemporary with the 175th monthly and grand extraordinary drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, when over half a million dollars were scattered by blind fortune's wheel. Ticket No. 56,232 drew the first capital prize of $150,000. It was sold in tents at $1 each, two of which—$30,000—were held for collection by the Canal Bank, of New Orleans; another two—$30,000—collected through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Bank, San Francisco, Cal.; another—$15,000—by George M. Shackleton, collected through Bank of Commerce, Memphis, Tenn. The remainder was sold to parties in Cincinnati and elsewhere. No. 98,345 drew the second capital prize of $50,000 and was also sold in tents. Two of which—$10,000—was paid to the Germania National Bank, of New Orleans, La.; another, $5,000, to John J. Mueller, No. 493 Hastings street, Detroit, Mich.; another, $5,000, to Mr. George Carritt, a well known newspaper carrier of Memphis, Tenn.; another $5,000 to 500 to Meers, A. Goebel & Co., Detroit, Mich.; the remainder was scattered. No. 6,638 drew the third capital prize of $20,000, sold to a New Yorker, whose name by request is not given. The next drawing (the 177th) will occur Tuesday, February 10th, of which all information can be had from M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La.

That Turkey Shootin' Match Again.

Editor Bulletin.—In the article concerning the shooting match on Lawrence Creek, in Monday's edition of the BULLETIN, we notice a distinction, enclosed in a parenthesis, in favor of three gentlemen, in which they are made to appear as though they had not been used in the affair. We, the undersigned, desire to state that we allowed our names used only on the solicitation of Mr. W. E. Wells, Sr. and in contradiction of the mis-statement of the Maysville Republican. "With malice toward none and charity toward all," we are, respectively,

MEAN BUSINESS.

A Trick Which a Paris Merchant Used to Make Money.

(Galiganian's messenger.)
The Figaro tells an amusing story of the tricks of trade in pictures. A broker named D — had signed a contract with a poor member of the brush to take all the latter could produce, the consideration of the painter was military subjects. As soon as he had finished a painting, the broker took it away, changed the signature to that of "A. E. Gaulbault," and sold it for $100. The artist's income was that while the poor artist, having drawn ten hours of the day at the rate of two francs an hour, and remained unknown to any but the rascally broker, the fame of "Gaulbault" kept rising and the pictures fetched higher prices every year.

The painter happening to stroll into Salons one day, recognized his handwriting—but not the signature appended. On inquiry, he learned he did not know "Gaulbault," whereupon M. Bernheim, the well-known dealer in the Rue Ledaine, hastened there to introduce himself to the dealer as "Gaulbault." "Ah," exclaimed M. Bernheim, "I conjecture you; you have achieved a certain small success. I am here wishing to make permanent your acquaintance for the past six years." "Oh," replied the artist, "but my name is not 'Gaulbault,' but Beaupense." and he forthwith acquainted the dealer with his little contract with D. Since then he has sold his pictures at a high price, and Beaupense signs the canvases which made him turn bought him to the notice of those who had been admiring them at the Salons for the past three years.

Peculiar Result of a Mill Accident.

(Dalton Tribune.)

It is now nearly three weeks since John Johnson, a laborer in the Dalton Lumber Company's mill, was injured by being struck in the head by a stick flying from a saw. The stick broke the skull just over the left eye-ball, and when the doctor dressed the wound he told him it would not heal, for the wound reached the nasal cavity, and now the patient actually breathes through the hole in his skull—such is the case when he chooses to. He is now doing well, and promises to get well again, except he will always have the choice of breathing through his nose, or through his forehead.
